

I have contacted Sendiass twice. First time was when my son, was not accepted into a specialist unit.

Second time was when I realised that there were major changes, at my son's school.

The difference contacting Sendiass has made to us is remarkable.

I was dealing with the unknown, things that I have never had the experience of. Also I did not know anyone else who had. My son was moving to Post 16 education and I needed advice.

I would advise other families to contact Sendiass, and I also have in the past three years done this.

The people are absolutely amazing and knowledgeable in areas that parents have usually not had experience in.
